I only saw this Big Brother Gov and Putin and Russophobia article by you and David Eichenbaum last night.

“Over the course of my career, I’ve seen a number of challenges to our democracy,” special counsel Robert Mueller told a House committee on Wednesday. “The Russian government’s effort to interfere in our election is among the most serious.” Mr. Mueller is right: Russia’s interference in the 2016 campaign was real, it deserves the attention of every American, and it is ongoing. Our opponents are decentralized—a mix of hostile foreign powers, non-state actors and individuals, ranging from Russia and China to domestic threats like the white nationalist movement—and have found new ways to weaponize the internet and warp our collective understanding of reality. – Politico: 25 July 2019 Russia's Prepared to Interfere in 2020. President Donald Trump will soon become the third president in American history to face impeachment by the House – and it's all because of what he did on July 25. That's the day he spoke on the phone with Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky and pressed him to investigate Democrats, including former Vice President Joe Biden, a leading 2020 rival. House Democrats are poised to cast historic votes this month impeaching Trump, triggering a Senate trial. The public is still learning new information about what happened on July 25, which was just a day after special counsel Robert Mueller testified to Congress about the Trump campaign's contacts with Russia in the 2016 election. – Politics: [What happened on July 25, the most important day in the impeachment scandal<sup>23</sup>.

I think we found in the first part of this century you just can justify new trident submarines or new trident ICBM's - intercontinental ballistic missiles - against ISIS, or against Afghanistan really. Only Russia will do. Someday perhaps China will present itself as a military power that presents this required mobilization on our part, not now. I think they realize that it is very hard to run an empire without a hostile power as big as Russia. When we went to select our jury we brought in an expert, actually a psychiatrist. The psychiatrist said to us you don't want on this jury men of middle age, because these are people who in the course of their lives might possibly have sacrificed principle for the sake of career, for the sake of family and they have lived with that compromise and they will have allot of disdain, even contempt for two men who did it for the sake of principle, and took the risk. .... On 27 Nov 2018 Stan requested to be removed as an EoP Applicant 27 Nov: [Stan McChrystal Re: The Robert E Lee Beam in Stanley McChrystal's Leadership Eye<sup>51</sup>]. I requested confirmation of his request 27 Nov: [EoP Re: Stan McChrystal Re: The Robert E Lee Beam in Stanley McChrystal's Leadership Eye<sup>52</sup>]. Stan did not confirm his 'request to be removed' request, confirming his status as a 'plausisble deniable EoP Applicant'.

On 02 June 2019 Stan again requested to be removed as an EoP Applicant 02 Jun: [Stan McChrystal Re: LJ v LS: Req for Info: Alastair Campbell: WiP Media Spokesperson<sup>53</sup>]. On 11 June 2019 11 Jun: [EoP Q #2 to Annie McChrystal: Re: Stan McChrystal EoP Applicant withdrawal<sup>59</sup>] I requested Annie to confirm that she had read the EoP 10 June 2019 correspondence before her abrupt response, and to confirm that she did not want to make a fully informed decision as to Stan's decision. ## Req for - BB-Affid Status; RH Circle Fuckery Complaint – Info

Brad listed as Equality Court Application Witness:

Brad was informed on 07 January 2020, that he is a potential witness in an impending Equality Court application at the George High Court 07 Jan: [Notice of Equality Court: LJ v GHJ: Court Witnesses<sup>4</sup>].

Two of the respondents have amicably resolved their issues in dispute with the applicant 10 Jan: [LJvGHJ: NCLR Not Involved: LJ Withdrawal & Apology<sup>5</sup>], consequently the application has been updated excluding them 21 Jan: [H 51/19: LJvGHJ: EQ Crt Action Proceedings Filing<sup>6</sup>].

I hoped to file it today, but it was raining – my transport is a bicycle, and I avoid cycling in rain, as per my mothers request so that I avoid catching a cold, which may affect her immune system, as she is undergoing cancer treatment.

A few hours ago, I noticed Radical Honesty post: Yearly Review - 2019<sup>7</sup>: Agreements<sup>8</sup>, which includes “Out of the Trainer Agreement process, we saw a need for a dedicated group of seasoned Radical Honesty Trainers to support trainers and participants in relationship issues, unfinished business, and grievances. .... The RH Circle and the Board have the authority to remove a trainer’s certification if they deem that the trainer has harmed a participant, are not keeping their agreements, and/or refuses to converse with the Circle.”

My preference is always to resolve issues in dispute out of court, if possible.

It is unclear whether this RH Circle to resolve grievances is more Radical Hypocrisy bullshit the public relations verbal diarrhea virtue signalling; or whether someone at Radical Honesty finally gives a fuck about the hundreds of people with unresolved – presumably some are sincere and others are not – grievances against Brad.

I have no interest in being a Radical Honesty trainer; however as a former member of the Radical Honesty community; I have tried to resolve issues in dispute with Radical Honesty Trainers for a very fucking long time. If there are individuals at Radical Honesty who have had a change of heart, and now sincerely give a fuck about ‘resolving unfinished business’ with individuals who were former members of the Radical Honesty community.

XR-BBC: [Roger Hallam: Something Drastic Has To Happen<sup>21</sup>] and said the Holocaust was "just another fuckery in human history". Hallam: Really, that's your responsibility as journalists to go and do the math. What I am responsible for is organizing a rebellion against governments. I mean, why don't you do an article on climate change and rape? DER SPIEGEL: Excuse me? Hallam: What's going to be the biggest implication of climate change for women around the world? The ecological collapse. Ecological collapse means social collapse. And what does that mean? War, the slaughter of men and the rape of women. DER SPIEGEL: You can't blame the climate change for the rape of women during war. Hallam: No, climate change is just the tubes that the gas comes down in the gas chamber. It's just a mechanism through which one generation kills the next generation. – Zeit: Roger Hallam calls Holocaust "just another fuckery in human history"<sup>22</sup>; Spiegel: "We Are Engaged in the Murder of the World's Children"<sup>23</sup>. » EoP Leg Sub: 03 Jan: EoP Obs: What laughing – 'Where is Kim Nixon's Xmas vase gift' – Babylonians don't know<sup>24</sup>; 22 Jan: EoP Notice to Justice Roberts & Impeachment Mngs: Re: US v DJ Trump<sup>25</sup>.

97.5 % of normal people, given opportunity to obey ethical laws, prefer to do so. Nestar Russell and Annette Bolton: Awareness of impending climate catastrophe has greatly increased over the last 30 years. Increasing awareness, however, has not translated into decreasing but instead increasing greenhouse gas emissions. .... Interestingly, as illustrated by Milgram's previously mentioned Subject Free to Choose Shock Level condition, when ordinary people at the end of an organisational chain (e.g., consumers) are aware of the harmful consequences of their actions and they are then offered the unimpeded option to act ethically, 97.5 per cent chose to do so. As long as their self-interests are not too heavily compromised by manipulative up-stream meddling, Milgram's research clearly illustrates that most people prefer to pursue what they understand to be the morally right course of action. Thus, perhaps more than any other factor, our present inability to avert climate catastrophe is largely an abuse of (mostly higher) power and a total failure of leadership. The fish rots from the head down. – MPDI: "Climate Catastrophe and Stanley Milgram's Electric Shock "Obedience" Experiments: An Uncanny Analogy"<sup>26</sup> [PDF<sup>27</sup>].
